Emerging Risks (ER) are new and/or quickly evolving risks characterised by high uncertainties regarding their occurrence, impacts and consequences. Emerging Risks include technology risks, such as cyber-, fracking- and nano-risks, but also health risks (microbial resistance, multiple stressors etc.) and environmental risks (land subsidence, super nat cats etc.), among others. Emerging Risks are long-tail risks with potentially severe impacts on the economy, the society and the environment. The «Emerging Risks Center» (<http://emergingriskscenter.ch>) supports your enterprise in the analysis, assessment and management of emerging risks.

Our services at your disposal

The «Emerging Risks Center» offers you a range of services concerning emerging risks in the fields of Technologies, Human Health, and Environment. The services include but are not limited to monitoring, consulting/education and product development.

We advise and support you with risk analyses, studies, reports, workshops and product development. By means of the 360°-Risk-Radar, for instance, we enable you to closely and permanently follow emerging trends and risks relevant to your enterprise. The monitoring system analyses, assesses, and reports relevant trends in a proactive manner and provides you with crucial information for strategic and operational decisions.
